

The Global Organisational Excellence Congress brings to you a Certification Training Course on TRADE Best Practice Benchmarking to stimulate innovation and provide a pathway to business excellence and world-class performance.

WHAT IS TRADE?

The TRADE Benchmarking methodology is used in benchmarking projects to exchange (or “trade”) information and best practices to dramatically improve the performance of processes, goods and services. TRADE provides a systematic and powerful approach to learn from other organisations, unlock the creativity of staff and implement best practices. TRADE is the approved methodology for the public service in Singapore, Dubai, and the Philippines, used by 100’s of private sector organisations with some becoming Global Benchmarking Award Winners, and was first used by members of the New Zealand Benchmarking Club. Thousands of professionals have been trained enabling them to further their career through the application of the TRADE toolset and learning in benchmarking and associated areas of innovation, change management, project management, and research techniques.

BENEFITS

Benefits from projects using the TRADE methodology include:

- savings in excess of 500,000 USD per year through improvements to its procurement system (Dubai Municipality)
- implemented 21 practices and improved its employee happiness from 7.3 to 7.6 placing it in the top 10% of the happiest organisations in the world (KHDA)
- 1479% total growth of solar installation projects (DEWA)
- increased productivity in the mechanical workshop from 40% to 72% and increased vehicle availability from 88% to 95% with savings in excess of 4,000,000 USD (Dubai Police)

Many winners and finalists of the Global Benchmarking Award, the most prestigious award in benchmarking, are users of the TRADE methodology <http://www.globalbenchmarkingaward.com/past-winners/>

CERTIFICATION

Individuals trained in TRADE can advance their knowledge of benchmarking through its certification scheme. Successful participants will be awarded the TRADE Benchmarking Trained Certificate (Bronze) by the Center for Organizational Excellence Research (COER), New Zealand. Completed benchmarking projects if rated as 3 Stars ★★ or above enable trainees to advance to Benchmarking Proficiency. To achieve TRADE Benchmarking Mastery

(Gold) at least one benchmarking project needs to be completed at a 5 Star ★★★★★ level. This certification scheme is the first to be offered in benchmarking, and recognizes the need to advance the professionalism of this field.

OBJECTIVES OF TRAINING

- ♦ To provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of the TRADE methodology
- ♦ To provide participants with the skills necessary to learn and apply best practices that deliver significant operational and financial benefits
- ♦ To kick-start a project of relevance to the participant’s organization
